

Le AT HOME

Children begin to learn from the moment they are born. Your role as their first and most important teacher does not end when they start school—it evolves. Learning at home does not have to be complicated. Here are some easy and powerful ways to make learning a part of everyday life:

